Discovery

Testimony and document production is permitted

- AIA authorizes the Office to set standards and procedures for the taking of discovery. 35 U.S.C. 316(a)(5) & 326(a)(5).

- Discovery rules allow parties to agree to discovery between themselves. § 42.51(a)(1) & (b)(2).

- The final rules provide for mandatory initial disclosures, routine discovery, and additional discovery § 42.51.
Routine Discovery

- Routine discovery – reduces costs to parties by making basic information readily available at the outset of the proceeding. Routine discovery may assist the parties to assess the merits of their respective positions, to avoid harassment in the proceeding, or to reach settlement. § 42.51(b)(1).

  - Routine discovery includes documents cited, cross-examination for submitted testimony, and information inconsistent with positions advanced during the proceeding.

  - Proposed rule on inconsistent statements has been modified to limit both scope and number of individuals subject to the rule. § 42.51(b)(1)(iii).
Additional discovery

- The parties may agree to additional discovery between themselves. Otherwise, a party must request any discovery beyond routine discovery.

- A party seeking additional discovery in IPR and derivation must demonstrate that the additional discovery is in the interests of justice. 35 U.S.C. 316(a)(5) for IPR; § 42.51(c).

- A party seeking additional discovery in PGR and CBM will be subject to the lower good cause standard. 35 U.S.C. 326(a)(5) for PGR; § 42.224.
